05.18.2020

Conner & Winters, LLP today announced Rich Marshall joined the firm as a partner in the banking and finance and real estate areas. Marshall relocated his family to Tulsa, Oklahoma after spending 20 years representing financial institutions, developers and investors in Dallas.

“We are thrilled to bring on Rich as he will add incredible value and expertise to our already talented team. Rich will continue to serve his Texas clients and assist Conner & Winters with growing our Dallas office while deepening our real estate bench strength in Tulsa,” said Scott Hathaway, president of Conner & Winters. “While it may seem unconventional to bring on a new partner during these uncertain times, we are committed to the future.”

Prior to joining Conner & Winters, Marshall practiced at international law firms. He has represented institutions in asset-based commercial loan transactions across the United States and principal real estate constituents in the Dallas metro. Marshall also holds a commercial real estate license in Oklahoma and Texas. Marshall earned a J.D. from the Columbia University School of Law and graduated from the University of Oklahoma with a B.A. in English.
