The Department of Defense's (DoD's) Cybersecurity Maturity Model Certification (CMMC) program has been in the works for some time. At the end of December 2023, the DoD released its long-awaited proposed rule to establish the CMMC Program. It's only a matter of time until the program is finalized and will be binding for all companies working with the DoD. This webinar will discuss the CMMC Program, the proposed rule, and address questions that companies may be asking regarding what's next?
