Partner Robert Darwell has once again been recognized as a Power Lawyer by The Hollywood Reporter (THR). Bob made his 17th appearance on the list, having been recognized on this coveted list since its inception in 2006.

According to THR, "When he isn't representing companies like Amazon in its MGM acquisition or streamers like Peacock in its purchase of the Ben Affleck-starring film Hypnotic, Darwell is a burgeoning filmmaker and producer in his own right. The lawyer has a documentary, The 90s Club, that he directed during the pandemic and recently screened at the Santa Barbara Film Festival. "After all these years of doing contracts for everybody else's movies, I get to do one that I made," Darwell says, beaming.
