

Jaime Choi and Mike Orlando Named 2025 Leaders of Influence in Life Sciences

San Diego Business Journal
06.02.2025

Partners Jaime Choi and Mike Orlando were named to the San Diego Business Journal's 2025 "Leaders of Influence in Life Sciences." This annual list recognizes 50 influential leaders in the life sciences industry.

Choi, a partner in the Intellectual Property practice group and member of the Life Sciences industry team, was recognized for patenting complex, interdisciplinary technologies and helping her clients build and strategically enforce patent portfolios. This is her third consecutive year on this list.

Orlando, a partner in the firm's Life Sciences team and co-leader of the Technology Transactions team, was selected for advising life sciences, healthcare and technology clients on developing, commercializing and procuring technology through strategic transactions for over 20 years. Recently, he represented Tharimmune in an exclusive license with Intract Pharma for a chimeric monoclonal antibody and drug delivery platform to develop oral products to treat various autoimmune diseases.

See the full list here.

Attorneys

Jaime D. Choi, Ph.D.

Michael D. Orlando

Practice Areas

Corporate

Intellectual Property

Industries

Life Sciences