

Jordan Hamburger Named 2025 Leader of Influence: Private Equity, Investors & Advisors

Los Angeles Business Journal
07.03.2025

Partner Jordan Hamburger was named among the Los Angeles Business Journal's 2025 list of "Leaders of Influence: Private Equity, Investors & Advisors." The annual list highlights the careers of the most notable private equity professionals in the Los Angeles region.

Hamburger, co-leader of the firm's Private Equity team, was noted for being a go-to transactional advisor to middle-market companies including private equity firms, corporations, entrepreneurs and other market participants in the aerospace & defense, healthcare and financial services industries.

He is noted for representing private equity firm OpenGate Capital and its portfolio company Sargent and Greenleaf in the sale of Premier Steel Doors and Frames to ASSA ABLOY, as well as advising Chimney Rock Equity Partners in its majority investment in 3G Productions.
