Sheppard Mullin's Dallas office was named among the city's "Best Places to Work" by Dallas Business Journal in the publication's list of 100 companies. The Dallas office opened in April 2018, so this is the office's first year participating in the survey.

The Dallas Business Journal surveyed companies by asking an array of anonymous multiple-choice questions to help understand what's driving growth in the organization, and what factors establish it as a top workplace. Winners met or beat a national best practice score for their category, as determined by Quantum Workplace, which administered more than 1.2 million employee surveys nationwide this year. The 100 honorees were divided into five categories by size. Rankings for each category will be announced during an awards reception on October 24.
