Fox Soul

05.24.2024

Sheppard Mullin partner Robert Darwell was featured on the Fox Soul show “TEA-G-I-F” discussing his documentary “Black Uniform,” which features the voices of 12 Black Veterans who have served in the U.S. Military, including in World War II to present day. Also joining the discussion with Darwell was U.S. Army veteran Robert Dabney Jr. who founded VETPARK, an organization that helps get veterans into the arts and provides a supportive community for them to share and grow their businesses. Darwell and Dabney’s segment begins at 14:40 and includes a wide-ranging discussion about the numerous issues Black veterans face as well as highlights from “Black Uniform.”
