Anna Sanyal, an attorney in the Vorys Columbus office, will participate in a panel discussion for Women for Economic and Leadership Development (WELD) titled "Maximizing the Power of a Multigenerational Workforce." Panelists will share their perspectives on how to build a resilient, unified multigenerational workplace. Topics include: fighting bias and stereotypes, understanding what drives your team, ensuring inclusion at all levels, managing the challenges of a multigenerational workforce and how their views have (or have not) changed in a post-Covid workplace.
