SPEAKING ENGAGEMENT | 4.1.2025

Jabari Shaw, an associate in the Cincinnati office and a member of the intellectual property group, will serve as a panelist at the Columbus Blue Jackets Sport Law Event at the Nationwide Arena Activity Center on April 1, 2025. The discussion will cover the potential of artificial intelligence in sports as well as its legal implications and risks. Fellow panelists will include Peter Lovins, general counsel for the Blue Jackets, and the team's assistant general manager, Josh Flynn.

Registration includes admission to the Turf Terrace for that evening's game against the Nashville Predators. You can register for this event here.
