Bruce Paige, a partner in the Vorys Columbus office and a member of the firm's AI Steering Committee, will serve as a panelist at The Ohio State University Moritz College of Law's annual Roundtable on Artificial Intelligence in Legal Practice. The event brings together AI industry leaders, legal practitioners and faculty of the law school to explore how AI is transforming the legal practice.

Bruce and other attorneys will discuss this year's theme, "Educating Tomorrow's Lawyers for an AI-Integrated Practice," with a focus on what law schools can do to prepare students to practice in the new legal environment.
