Bryan Farkas, a partner in the Vorys Cleveland office, was featured in the Cleveland Jewish News' Super Attorneys section. The section featured a profile story on Farkas.

The story states:

"Beyond representing financial institutions and servicers in workouts, restructurings, insolvency proceedings and litigation matters, Farkas serves as outside general counsel for several companies.

Prior to attending law school at Case Western Reserve University, the attorney completed a post-graduate program in Jewish philosophy and Talmudic law at the Heiden Torah Institute, Machon Shlomo. He continues to spend a significant amount of time in Israel.

Farkas is a member of the Jewish Federation of Cleveland's community planning committee. He also serves on boards at the Jewish Education Center of Cleveland, Cleveland Chesed Center and Naaleh."
