

Hobson Appointed to Nuclear Security Administration Congressional Advisory Panel

NEWS | 4.26.2013

David L. Hobson, president of Vorys Advisors, was appointed to a congressional advisory panel that will review the action of the federal agency that maintains the Pentagon's nuclear weapons. The appointment was highlighted in a Columbus Dispatch Daily Briefing story entitled "Hobson named to nuclear advisory panel."

The story states:

"Senate Armed Services Committee Chairman Carl Levin, D-Mich., tapped Hobson for the congressional panel which was created by the 2013 defense bill. The panel will deliver a report in one year on the National Nuclear Security Administration, which is a semi-independent agency affiliated with the U.S. Department of Energy."
