Mark Norman, a partner in the Vorys Cincinnati office, was highlighted in an Environmental Law360 article. The article was question and answer with an environmental attorney named Andrew Kolesar. Kolesar was asked to name an attorney outside of his firm who has impressed him. He was also asked to explain why. His response was:

“Mark Norman of Vorys Sater (Cincinnati). Mark is very bright and has great experience in a wide range of environmental specialties. He is strong advocate for his clients. Most impressive to me, Mark is a problem solver. He is highly practical with a keen sense of the material issues for his client and the adverse party, and he uses this to help resolve matters rather than to fight meaningless battles. And he does all of this with a calm demeanor and humor.”
