

Transmission Line Projects Pending Throughout Ohio

Related Professionals

Thomas H. Fusonie

Joseph R. Miller

Related Industries

Agriculture

NEWS | 10.24.2016

There are a number of applications for proposed electric transmission line projects throughout Ohio pending before the Ohio Power Siting Board. For example, there are several proposed transmission line projects in the following counties: Belmont, Harrison, Monroe, Noble, and Washington. For the proposed projects, the transmission line companies will be looking to acquire property rights in private property. Landowners should be prepared to address the scope and necessity of any proposed acquisition and whether, and to what extent, eminent domain may be used to acquire the property rights.

If you have questions regarding the projects, or your rights, please contact Tom Fusonie (614.464.8261 or thfusonie@vorys.com) or Joe Miller (614.464.6233 or jrmiller@vorys.com).