Albers is a member of the health care group in the Cleveland office. He advises in all areas of health care law, but focuses his practice on health care mergers and acquisitions activity. Albers also assists clients in other areas including physician and provider certification, registration, licensure, and accreditation; Medicare and Medicaid billing, coding, documentation, payment, and reimbursement; teaching physician and non-physician practitioner supervision and billing; federal and state fraud and abuse laws and related government investigations; the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA); Emergency Medical Treatment and Active Labor Act (EMTALA); and professional disciplinary actions. He is also a former associate general counsel for University Hospitals Health System in Cleveland. Albers received his J.D. magna cum laude from Case Western Reserve University School of Law, where he was a member of the Order of the Coif. He received a B.A. in Political Science from The Ohio State University.

Briscoe is a member of the litigation group in the Houston office. Her practice encompasses litigation and trial work in premises liability, products liability, and employee wrongful death cases throughout Texas. An experienced litigator, Briscoe also handles commercial litigation matters, including the representation of financial and lending institutions in real estate litigation cases. In addition, she has significant appellate experience before several intermediate Texas courts of appeal, the Texas Supreme Court, and the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeal. Briscoe was a clerk for the Hon. Eric T. Washington, Chief Judge of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals and was an assistant professor of law at South Texas College of Law. She received her J.D. from Harvard Law School, where she worked as a research assistant to the Hon. A. Leon Higginbotham. She received her B.A. summa cum laude from Xavier University of Louisiana.

Clark is a member of the labor and employment group in the Columbus office. He has significant experience with employment discrimination cases, the Family and Medical Leave Act, the enforcement of non-competition agreements, collective bargaining, and union issues. Clark has defended a Fair Labor Standards Act collective action, obtained a directed verdict in a jury trial of a race discrimination case and has represented schools and institutions of higher education. He received his J.D. with honors from The Ohio State University Michael E. Moritz College of Law. Clark also participated in the Ohio State Summer Law Program at Oxford University in 2000. He received his B.A. summa cum laude from Wittenberg University, where he received the Jeffery Mao Award in Political Science and was a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Gibson is a member of the firm's litigation group in the Cincinnati office. He has particular experience representing companies and individuals in cases involving internet issues, including internet defamation. Gibson also has experience in False Claims Act cases, RICO cases, government contract cases, class-actions, medical-malpractice litigation, probate, trust and fiduciary litigation, breach of contract, copyright, trademark, false advertising litigation and complex commercial litigation. He received his J.D. from the University of Cincinnati College of Law where he was a member of Order of the Coif and was an associate member of the Cincinnati Law Review. Gibson received his B.S. from Penn State University.

Krummen is a member of litigation group in the Columbus office. He has counseled and represented corporations, government entities, nonprofit organizations, and institutions of higher education for federal and state court litigation, government relations, and regulatory matters. He is experienced in appellate, constitutional, commercial, environmental, oil and gas, tort, and securities litigation. Recently, Krummen had the opportunity to serve, on secondment, as in-house counsel at Chesapeake Energy Corporation in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, assisting with litigation management for the company's Eastern Division. Prior to joining Vorys, he served as Deputy Solicitor for the Office of the Ohio Attorney General, during which time he was responsible for a wide range of civil and criminal appeals on behalf of the State of Ohio and its agencies. Krummen received his J.D. from Harvard Law School and his B.A. summa cum laude from The Ohio State University. He also served as a judicial law clerk for the Honorable R. Guy Cole, Jr. of the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit.

Lyons is a member of the corporate and finance group of the Houston office. Her practice is broad, and includes counseling both profit and nonprofit entities in matters involving business formation, entity selection, corporate governance, director and officer liability, fiduciary duties, and banking regulatory compliance. She regularly assists firm clients in the structuring and negotiation of joint ventures, mergers and stock and asset acquisitions on both the sale and buy side and has also assisted in the start-up of new companies and de novo banks.
