Vorys is pleased to announce that the firm's Women's Initiative Chair, Nina Webb-Lawton, was recently selected to join the 2016-2017 class of the Ohio Women's Bar Foundation's (OWBF) Leadership Institute.

According to OWBF, the mission of the Leadership Institute is to advance inclusiveness within the legal profession and supplement the professional skills of women lawyers by enhancing their leadership, business development, and communication skills for the benefit of the diverse communities in which they work, live, and serve.

Webb-Lawton is a partner in the litigation group in the Vorys Columbus office. She has litigation experience in a broad range of areas, including toxic tort defense, employment, contract litigation, antitrust and appellate work. Webb-Lawton has also advised clients on the Consumer Products Safety Improvement Act.

About Vorys: Vorys was established in 1909 and currently has nearly 375 attorneys in seven offices in Columbus, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Akron, Ohio; Washington, D.C.; Houston, Texas; and Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Vorys currently ranks as one of the 200 largest law firms in the United States according to American Lawyer magazine.
