OVERVIEW

Ian Daniels is an Associate in the Commercial Litigation Department and advises technology and gaming clients on regulatory and legislative compliance matters across multiple jurisdictions. Through his practice, he has assisted established enterprises and emerging businesses navigate the everchanging legal landscape surrounding technology, online sports betting, and i-gaming. Ian's work often involves guiding clients through complex, multi-state regulations and developing strategies that support growth while ensuring compliance.

Ian brings experience in national and state-level regulatory compliance, municipal regulations, and sports law. Before starting his legal career, Ian worked in business development at one of the world's leading technology companies.
