OVERVIEW

Christina Balli is an Associate in the Commercial Litigation Department and a member of the firm's Labor and Employment and Insurance Coverage and Bad Faith Practice Groups.

Christina regularly defends employers against employee claims alleging violations of both Massachusetts and federal statutes alleging discrimination, retaliation, failure to accommodate, and harassment. She is experienced in both state and federal courts and regularly handles disputes in the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination.

Additionally, Christina represents insurers in complex insurance coverage disputes and advises clients on matters involving coverage issues.

Prior to joining White and Williams, Christina worked as an Associate at a mid-sized law firm where she handled a variety of civil litigation matters, including employment litigation and general and professional liability.
