

Ransomware: Where Do We Go From Here?

American Bar Association | Webinar | 1 PM EST
2.12.21

PRACTICE AREAS

Cyber Law and Data Protection

Join our panelists in a mock ransomware scenario. The panel discuss the impact to companies, insurance ramifications and the forensic involvement when an event occurs. The scenario will examine technical response, tactical response and overall incident preparedness.

Panelists will walk through a mock ransomware scenario and discuss how an organization handles a ransomware incident. The panel will discuss the importance of initial third-party expert involvement, forensics process, recovery and recommendations. They will examine the importance of preparedness, what would a business can expect, potential business interruption loss and security of business critical systems. The program will also discuss recent trends of ransomware throughout the industry.

Panelists include:

- Joshua A. Mooney, Chair of White and Williams' Cyber Law Group, Vice Chair of the ABA Cybersecurity and Data Privacy Committee (Moderator)
- Anthony J. Dolce, Vice President and Claims Cyber Lead, Chubb
- Carolyn Purwin Ryan, Partner, Mullen Coughlin
- Jonathan T. Rajewski, Vice President of Digital Forensics and Incident Response, Stroz Friedberg

Register on the ABA website.