

Trench Collapses: Unearthing the Secrets to Investigate, Evaluate and Pursue Workers' Compensation Subrogation Recoveries in Excavation and Trench Collapses

2022 NASP Annual Conference
11.8.22

When excavations and trench activities go wrong, personal injuries - including fatalities - and property damages may result. Counsel Brett Tishler will discuss tools to help unearth the various details of excavations and trenching incidents, including technical and practical definitions, investigation and discovery best practice, relevant standards and regulations, and which protective measures are expected from all parties prior to beginning excavation and trenching activities.
