

Christopher Graham Joins White and Williams in New York City

1.6.22

White and Williams is pleased to announce the addition of Christopher Graham as Partner in its New York City office. Chris joins the Financial Restructuring and Bankruptcy group, where he brings nearly 40 years of experience representing clients in bankruptcy and insolvency matters.

Chris represents secured creditors in Chapter 11 matters and also counsels creditors and shareholders, purchasers in bankruptcy 363 sales, outside board of director members of Chapter 11 debtors-in-possession, mezzanine lenders, trustees, receivers, state regulatory agencies, foreign liquidators in international cases, and debtors-in-possession. Chris is recognized for his particular experience in Chapter 11 cramdown plans and defenses and Chapter 9 municipal bankruptcies. He also handles complex real estate foreclosures and related litigation and has experience counseling receivers in matters involving real estate, mortgage-backed securities, asset-backed securities and related Uniform Commercial Code foreclosures.

Chris is a two-time member of the Board of Directors of the American Bankruptcy Institute. He has served as an adjunct professor of bankruptcy law at St. John's University School of Law in New York since 1999. Chris earned his JD from the University of Pennsylvania Law School and both a BS and BA from Georgetown University.
