

White and Williams Launches the Restructuring Perspectives Blog

4.3.25

White and Williams is proud to announce the launch of the Financial Restructuring and Bankruptcy Practice Group's new blog, Restructuring Perspectives. This blog provides practical insights into a range of business issues in today's environment.

Our Financial Restructuring and Bankruptcy Practice Group has extensive experience navigating the challenges that arise from the ebbs and flows of the credit and real estate markets.

Restructuring Perspectives leverages the group's deep experience to deliver timely and concise knowledge into bankruptcy-related proceedings and litigation, liquidations, loan enforcement actions, credit workouts/restructurings, receivership proceedings, the sale and purchase of distressed loans or businesses, borrower liquidations and more. Focus will be on all aspects of restructuring, in and out of court, including Chapter 11 and Subchapter V.

The blog authors from our Financial Restructuring and Bankruptcy Group serve in leadership roles in leading organizations such as the Turnaround Management Association (TMA), the International Women's Insolvency and Restructuring Confederation (IWIRC) and the American Bankruptcy Institute (ABI) and are also involved with development and execution of events such as the Eastern District of Pennsylvania Bankruptcy Conference and the IWIRC Leadership Summit.
